KNIGHT'S American Mechanical Dictionary. PUBLISHED BY H.O. HOUGHTON & COMPANY, Boston THE RIVERSIDE PRESS, Cambridge. |From the Scientific American.|

[From the Scientific American.]

The completion of Knight's "American Mechanical Dictionary" is an event in the annais of literature in this country, as it marks the substantial completion of a great and elaborate undertaking, the labor on which has extended over a period of eight years. It is difficult to realize how colossal is the task involved in the preparation of a work of this description. The Tousands of patents, American and foreign, have been digested, industrial processes of every nature have been examined, and the latest! provements therein noted. Engineering works, scientific discoveries, and tools of every craft have been studied; and finally, all this immense collection, gathered from the whole field of applied science, has been subjected to careful revision and condensation, and, by means of ingeniously contrived systems of indexing, rendered invaluable for purposes of reference and research. Add to this the labors of artist and engraver, and there is little food for marvel that the work has cost filled to the latest dates. A just estimate evolumes include 2 300 pages. It is more an encyclopædia thar a dictionary; it is, in fact, a mechanical and scientific library, carried up to the latest dates. A just estimate of the comprehensive nature of the work, and its importance to inventors, engineers, and artisans of every class and in all libraries, can only be gained by careful examination of the volumes themselves.

Hair Vigor, For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color. which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserv-Faded or gray restored to its freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and Who to the altar went with me Our hearts aglow with ectasy, And my good angel vowed to be baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely HAIR DRESSING. nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor
